ing the court the right to prescribe any other outh than that fixed by the law for the admission of attorneys practicing in the courts?

The Legislature has provided by law for the admission of attorneys to practice law in the several courts of the State. Section 3965 of the Code provides, "no person shall paretice as an attorney or counsel in any of he courts of this State without a license obtained for that purpose, and without having taken an oath in an open court to support the constitution of the State and United States, and to truly and honestly demean himself in the practice of his profession to the best of his skill and ability." Section 3966 provides, "the applicant to practice law in this State shall rocure the certificate from the County Court that he is twenty-one years of age; that he is a man of good reputation." Section 3967 provides, "any two Judges or Chancellors of this State may examine the applicant touching his legal acquirements, and that he is of good character, and may grant him license to practice law in the

It appears from the records of the court, the plaintiff in error had been admitted as a practicing lawyer in that court, and that ie was a regular licensed attorney of this State, and having taken the oath required by law as prescribed by section 3965, and was enrolled as an attorney, the Judge holding the court had no right to impose section 3965

The outh prescribed by the Judge was plaintiff in error appear as an attorney in court, unless be complied with the orders of the court, was equivalent to striking his name from the list of attorneys, and in so rating, his Honor erred, from which order tiny, and would not claim to impose on i of the court, the plaintiff in error had the any form of government. To this France right of appeal. Section 3965 of the Code, having prescribed the terms upon which liconsed attorneys shall appear and practice in the several courts of this State, no court has the right to affix other conditions than those imposed by law.

We are, therefore, of opinion that his Honor erred in refusing to let the plaintiff n error appear as an attorney of this court. The judgment of the court will be reversed, and the plaintiff in error be admit ted as a practicing attorney of the court. SHACKELFORD, Judge.

SPEECH OF THE POPE TO THE OFFICERS OF THE LEGION. The following, according to the Rome correspondent of the Journal des Debats, is the full and accurate text to the Pope's farewell address to the Erench officers who took leave of him at the Vatican:

"On the eve of your departure I am here, my dear children, to bid you farewell. Your flag left France with the mission to uphold the rights of the Holy See. To day it is going back. I wish that it may be received with the same feeling that it left. I am informed that all the Catholic hearts are moved; they tremble in thinking of the difficulties in which they see the Vicar of the Lord Jesus Christ, the head of the Catholic Church. There must be no illusion-the revolution will come here. It is proclaimed; it has been said and it is repeated. An Italian in high position has said that Italy was constituted but not complete. Italy would be undone if there still remained here a corner of the land where order, justice, and tranquitity reign! They desire to display their flag from the capital. You know, as well as I, that the Tarpeian rock is not far distant. About six years ago I was speaking to a representative of France. I told-him to inrm the Emperor that St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo (which now belongs to the French Emprie,) terrified by the calamities which he foresaw while the barbarians were besieging the city, asked the Lord to be per-mitted to die before witnessing them. The representative said, in reply to me, "The barbarians will not enter." But he was no prophet. Another said to me that Rome could not be the capital of the kingdon but that it could be the capital of the Cath olic world. But I fear the revolution What am I to do? What am I to say? I have no resources. Yet I am tranquil, for the mightiest power, God, gives mestrength and constancy. [Here the Pope became affected, and all present participated in his ing his hand upon hi eart, and raising his eyes toward heaven proceeded.] Go, with my blessing, and my fartherly farewell. If you see your nperor you will tell him that I pray for his health. It is said that his soul is not at peace; I pray for his soul. The French naion is Christian. Its chief oughttobe Christian also. Prayers offered with confidence and perseverance are necessary, and that nation, so great and so powerful, will obtain what it desires. As for me, I live in God's mercy, and my b essing will accompany you on your voyage."

UNUSUAL FUNERAL CEREMONY. We copy from the Savannah Republican the following account of interesting burial services, which took place in that city on Sunday, Dec. 23: The impressive ceremonies connectes with the reinterment of three Bishops, two priests and two sisters in communion with the Catholic Church, took place yesterday afternoon. After the solcanities of High Mass over the remains of Francis X. Gartland, 1st Bishop of Savannah; the Right Reverend Edward Barron; the Right Reverend John Barry, Bishop of Georgia; Fathers Gillespy and Hook, and Sisters Aloysius, Stanislaus, Monica and Clare, the procession was formed at the Cathedral, and proceeded to the Cathedral Cemetery A large and imposing crowd of spectators vitnessed the solemnities, which were conducted by Bishop Verot, assisted by Fathers De Fau and La Fosse. After the usual burial services were read the remains of Bishop Barry, enclosed in coffin drapped in black, was consigned to the vault erected for its final repose. Bishop Barry was born in Ireland, and died on the 21st of November, 1859. He was a second Vincent de St. Saul : was the 2d Bishop of Savannah, and his remains were transferred from Paris to the cemetery on the 23d day of December, 1866. Next were interred the remains of Righ Reverend Francis X. Gartland, the first Bishop of Savannah, who was consecrated November 18th, 1860, and died of yellow fever during the epidemic of 1854. The remains were in a neat metalic coffin, and the tablet which marks his resting place has inscribed upon it, "The good shepherd careth for his sheep." In the same vault were deposited all that was mortal of the Right Reverend Edward Barron, Bishop of Africa, who, in that far off country lost health, and returning to his home in Savann h, yielded up his life on the 12th of September, 1854, during the prevailing epidemic. The tablet which marks his resting place bears this inscrip-tion, "I most gladly will spend and be spent myself for you, verily." Next were de sited the remains of Fathers Gillespy and Hook, at the foot of the vanit containing the Bishops, and the impressive ceremonie concluded with the reinterment of the re mains of Sisters Aloysius, Stanilaus, Monca and Clare, in the same enclosure.

Mr. Edward Wilder, Oity: Dear Sir: I have examined your Stomach Bit Dear Sir: I have examined your Stomach Bitters carrefully, and find it what you represent it to be. The high order which the ingredients going into it take in the Materia Medica, as well as the most happy proportioned combination of substances, make your Bitters far superior to any similar preparation in the country. The fact that you use only the purest Bourbon Whisky must necessarily resommend your Bitters in another point, especially as far as wholesomeness and palatability are taken into consideration. I was well pleased to see in your establishment the process of manufacturing your Bitters carried on by way of displacement, which not only gives you a better product, but also recommends itself by clearer operation.
